DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The examiner is in receipt of applicant's response to Office Action mailed 7/27/2009 which was received 1/26/2010. Acknowledgement is made to the amendment to claims 1,6,8,9 and the cancellation of claim 3. Applicant's remarks were carefully considered and were found to be persuasive when the following amendment was introduced, therefore the following reasons for allows are provided.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Christopher Adams on 4/26/2010.

Delete claims 1, 8 and 9 and replace with the following:

- 1. (Currently Amended) A system for facilitating the purchase of a plurality of telecommunication services, the system comprising:
- a server in communication with a plurality of buyer terminals and a plurality of seller terminals,

storing in memory information associated with one or more of a plurality of telecommunication service providers, the information being used to determine one or more system generated responses to a request to purchase at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service, each of the one or more system generated responses being associated with at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service providers and each of the one or more system generated responses being further associated with a related cost for the at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service and an indication associated with the seller controlled geographic footprint wherein the at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service is available;

establishing a session over a network for considering the purchase of the at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service;

receiving the request at a computer on the network, wherein the request is received after the information associated with one or more of a plurality of telecommunication service providers is stored; determining the at least one system generated response in response to the received request based at least upon the indication associated with the seller controlled geographical footprint; and preventing a requester from accepting the identified system generated response to the received request after the session is terminated.--

--8. (Currently Amended) A system for provisioning a plurality of telecommunication service, comprising:

a database containing a set of responses for determining system generated responses to purchase requests for the plurality of telecommunication services, each response reflecting at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service offering associated with a telecommunication service provider, a related cost for the telecommunication service offering, and an indication associated with the seller controlled geographic footprint wherein the at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service is available, each response being determined based at least upon the indication associated with the seller controlled geographical footprint;

a computer in communication with a network and the database comprising a set of instructions, stored in a tangible medium and executed by one or more processors, performs a method comprising the steps of:

(i) receiving a purchase request on behalf of a buyer including information indicating a requested telecommunication service for at least one consumer,

(ii) accessing the stored set of responses for determining system generated responses to purchase requests for at least one system generated response reflecting at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service offering capable of satisfying the requested telecommunication service for the at least one consumer,

(iii) receiving an acceptance to the system generated response during the session; and

(iv) preventing the acceptance to the system generated response after the session is terminated.--

--9. (Currently Amended) A system for purchasing a plurality of telecommunication services during a session, the system comprising:

a server in communication with a plurality of buyer terminals and a plurality of seller terminals,

storing a set of responses in memory for determining system generated responses to purchase requests for the plurality of telecommunication services, each system generated response reflecting at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service offering associated with a telecommunication service provider, a related cost for the telecommunication service offering, and an indication associated with the seller controlled geographic footprint wherein the at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service is available, each system generated response being determined based at least upon the indication associated with the seller controlled geographical footprint:

receiving a purchase request at a computer on a network during the session including information indicating a requested telecommunication service; accessing the stored set of responses to purchase requests during the session for at least one system generated response reflecting at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service offering capable of satisfying the requested telecommunication service; permitting a requestor to accept the at least one system generated response during the session;

preventing the requestor from accepting the at least one system generated response after the session is terminated; and preventing the telecommunication service provider from modifying the set of system generated responses during the session.--

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The instant invention relates to a system for providing a plurality of telecommunication services for the buyer to choose from and after the offer for the telecommunication service is made available to the buyer the offer is no longer available after the session has been terminated; inter alia, storing in memory information associated with one or more of a plurality of telecommunication service providers, the information being used to determine one or more system generated responses to a request to purchase at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service, each of the one or more system generated responses being associated with at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service providers and each of the one or more system generated responses being further associated with a related cost for the at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service and an indication associated with the seller controlled geographic footprint wherein the at least one of the plurality of telecommunication service is available; preventing a requester from accepting the identified system generated response to the received request after the session is terminated. The prior art of record does not fairly teach or suggest that there are a plurality of service offering from one service provider. At best the prior art teaches that a single telecommunication service from a plurality of suppliers is made available for selection by a buyer in a spot market.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
